About

Potatoes SA?

Potatoes SA, headquartered in Pretoria, is a non-profit organisation that effectively represents, and actively advocates for South Africa's potato industry and its producers.

As a prominent player in agriculture and agro-processing, the association prioritises potatoes, the largest fresh vegetable crop in the country, and promotes stakeholder collaboration through regular forums and committees, enabling all sector voices to be heard.

What does Potatoes SA do?

As an organisation our goal is to:

Serve as the trusted, authoritative voice of South Africa's potato producers

Establish and maintain the ongoing sustainability of the Potato Industry Forum and collaborative strategy formulation

Maintain a compliant national Potato Industry Development Trust (PIDT) that efficiently governs industry levies
